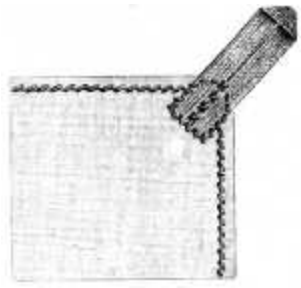
Widow Maker's Crafternoon

EPISODE 132 · CRAFT GUIDE

Sewing on Tape-Loops to the Corner

A tape loop, folded to a point, stitched on for the coarser household linens.



From Encyclopedia of Needlework (de Dillmont, 1886) · public domain

"Fold the point, join the middle, stitch to the corner."

1. Measure the Tape
   Cut a piece of tape from fifteen to seventeen centimeters long.

2. Lay the Ends
   Lay the two ends of your tape side by side.

3. Hem Three Sides
   Turn in the edges and hem the tape down on three sides, folding it into a three-cornered point.

4. Join with Cross-Stitches
   Join the two edges of the tape together in the middle with a few cross-stitches.

5. Stitch to the Corner
   Stitch the edge of the article's hem to the loop, on the right side.
